AI-Powered Loud Rock Band "AGOMETAL" Releases 11-Track Album "YAB-AI CORE (LOUD SIDE)"

A fictional-band project combining AI music-generation tools, DAW production, and character IP

Kobe-based loud rock band project AGOMETAL released its 11-track album "YAB-AI CORE (LOUD SIDE)" via AgolsoRECORDS on July 11, 2026. The album includes the flagship track "AI LOUDROCK," unveiled on YouTube ahead of the album release.

ABOUT AGOMETAL

AGOMETAL is a fictional loud rock band project produced by audio streamer ISOAGO in collaboration with AI tools. Guided by the motto "Loud rock powered by AI - music that makes your head move," the project combines male and female dual vocals, rap, screams, catchy hooks, electronic elements, and its own words and worldbuilding, aiming to move both the listener's head and body.

Musical source material is generated with Suno, while ISOAGO handles concept, lyrics, editing, sound treatment, and production. The project is also presented as a fictional seven-member band, spanning music, artwork, and video.

ABOUT THE ALBUM "YAB-AI CORE (LOUD SIDE)"

This 11-track album brings together AGOMETAL's current sound. Loud, catchy, and a little off-kilter, it distills into one release the kind of listening experience that makes you come back without warning. "YAB-AI CORE" is an original experiential genre coined by AGOMETAL, fusing loud rock with a wide range of other genres.

The flagship track "AI LOUDROCK" was unveiled on YouTube ahead of the album release. Drawing on ISOAGO's own experiences and the debate around AI music, it combines male and female vocals shaped with modern effects, singalong sections, driving momentum, and trance-leaning synths - directly asking whether loud rock can still make the body move.

PRODUCER COMMENT [ISOAGO]

"I'm ISOAGO. I've spent 25 years listening to loud rock and nu metal. I always felt the barrier to making music myself was far too high, and I never imagined I'd become a creator after turning 40. With the help of AI, I take the material it generates, work on it, and shape it into the music I want to hear. That is AGOMETAL.

I made this album for you - the person out there who loves loud rock. I hope you'll listen with your index finger and pinky raised, banging your head."
